Making decisions on how best to keep your hair elegant often proves to be a difficult task. Now that your hair is more manageable, healthier and shinier, we'd like to help you get the most "mileage" from your Brazilian blowout treatment.

Aftercare:

Now let's talk about how to keep your locks looking fabulous. Any semi permanent smoothing treatment washes away gradually over time. Products containing sulfate and sodium chloride will prematurely strip the treatment out of your hair. Using the Brazilian Blowout shampoo, conditioner, masque and styling products will only help to lengthen the lifespan of your treatment.

Keeping your hair washing to a minimal is also important. I suggest no more than three times a week. If you must wash your hair every day I suggest using Brazilian Blowout shampoo and conditioner daily and the Masque once a week. The Ionic bonding spray is an absolute must for all. It's like resetting the clock of your Brazilian Blowout treatment.

Swimmers:

If you're a swimmer all year round, it is just as important to protect your hair. I recommend the daily smoothing serum. It is UV/UVA safe and will help protect against chlorine and salt water, just apply wet and comb through before getting into the water.
